

Playtest Recorder — YouTube Data API v3 integration

Single-user Windows desktop application. One endpoint: videos.insert. One scope: `https://www.googleapis.com/auth/youtube.upload`. No backend server, no read access, no third-party data.

Not used and not requested

No backend. There is no server of ours in this diagram: the call is made from the user's own machine with the user's own credentials.

No read access. No `search.list`, no `videos.list`, no channel, comment, subscriber or analytics data is ever requested.

No third-party data. One user per installation, uploading their own recording. Nothing is uploaded without an explicit press of Upload.
